

14th Dec, 2014

Gary Ward- BIO

Gary Ward obtained both his M.Sc. and Ph.D from the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, Faculty of Agriculture. The findings of his research have been published in International journals including The Journal of Biological Chemistry and Environmental Science and Technology.

He lives with his family in the Upper Galilee in Northern Israel and has served as CTO for StePac for the last 9 years, playing instrumental roles in the development of new packaging solutions for fresh produce, working to identify complementary treatments and optimize postharvest handling as well as providing technical support to customers and representatives around the world.